“The Planet Mercury”

Steve Hauck will first present an overview of the latest information about the surface and the interior of the planet Mercury. He will also share “what we think we know” about the history of this small inner planet. Then he will “launch” into a discussion of NASA’s Mercury Messenger mission. Mercury Messenger is on its way and will arrive at the planet in several years. Steve will describe the goals of the mission the data that we hope to obtain.
